

LUNCH & LEARN WITH THE Dublin Historical Society

Saturday, March 28, 2020
11:30AM to 1:30PM

Dublin Library
Meeting Rooms 2 & 3
75 N. High Street, Dublin, Ohio 43017

It's Free! Make Your Reservation Today!

Tom Holton of the Dublin Historical Society will be sharing “Stones with Stories,” a presentation that will inform and entertain you.

Throughout Dublin there are bridges, memorials and markers that have historical significance to our city. Tom knows the stories behind each of them, and you will, too!

Founded in 1810 by the Sells family, the family saw raw products that every beginning community hoped for including high limestone banks along the Scioto River. That limestone helped shape Dublin and stands to this day.

Come join us, meet other curious Dubliners and enjoy a light lunch. It's all free.

Please reserve your spot by Wednesday, March 25th. Call the Forever Dublin Hub at 614.889.5722 ext 810 or email foreverdublinhub@syntero.org to register.

SPONSORED BY

Forever Dublin is a partnership between the City of Dublin and Syntero aimed at providing resources for residents to make Dublin their forever home.